Tax Increase Talk Growing On Capitol Hill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House takes up interest-limiting legislation today in the face of deep disagreement among House Democrats and increasing talk of a tax increase to fight inflation.

The debate, expected to lead to a vote Thursday, is likely to range far beyond the scope of the two bills before the House. There are concerns only with damping down the competition between banks and savings and loan associations for home mortgage funds.

Some Democrats are seeking a compromise formula between a bill introduced by Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee, and another measure backed by the Treasury. Other members, however, contend neither bill goes far enough.

The object of both measures is the same — to keep the higher interest rates offered by commercial banks on time deposits from drying up the flow of savings into savings and loan associations, traditionally the main source of funds for the currently hard-pressed home building industry.

Patman's bill would set a 4½ per cent ceiling on bank interest paid on time deposits of no more than $100,000. Time deposits are those left for a specified period and often are represented by negotiable certificates of deposit.

The rate could be increased only with presidential approval. The Treasury bill, introduced by Rep. Robert G. Stephens Jr., D-Ga., would leave interest rate discretion with the Federal Reserve.

One suggested compromise is a reworking of the Patman bill to make the 4½ per cent ceiling advisory by Congress rather than mandatory.

Many members have been looking beyond the Patman and Stephens bills to what they regard as the inevitable administration request, sooner or later, for a tax increase to sop up spendable funds and reduce the government's dependence on the ever-rising capital market.

Plea Of Illegal War Ruled Out In Pvt. Mora's Trial

PT. DIX, N.J. (AP) — The defense attorney for an Army private under court-martial for refusing to go to Viet Nam was forbidden today to argue that the war there is illegal.

Law officer Col. Robert F. Maguire, judge in the general court-martial of Pvt. Dennis Mora, interrupted the opening defense statement by lawyer Stanley Faulkner and told him: "I forbid you to argue in any manner that our troops are illegally in Viet Nam, while the court is present."

Maguire then excused the court, or jury, of 10 officers hearing the trial of Mora, 25, of New York, accused of disobeying an order from a superior officer to begin travel to Viet Nam. Mora calls himself a Socialist and says he is a member of the U.E.B. DuBois Club, which the U.S. attorney general has called subversive.

Texas, N.Y., Calif., Big In Defense Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — California, New York and Texas — in that order — got the biggest slices of defense prime contract spending in fiscal 1966. Pentagon figures showed today.

California, heavy in aerospace and electronics industries, received $5.8 billion in prime contract awards — 12.3 per cent of the $35.7 billion spent for military goods or services in the fiscal year that ended last June 30.

New York's share in defense spending totaled $2.8 billion and Texas followed with $2.2 billion.

The Texas total was up $850 million over the previous year, due mainly to contract awards for helicopters ticketed for Viet Nam. California's total climbed an estimated $650 million and

Romney's Safety Meet Oct. 3 At Iron Mountain

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has called a new series of governor's regional traffic safety conferences, centering on how laws can help cut back the state's costly highway accident toll.

Michigan traffic this year already has cost more than 1,400 lives and accident costs for the year are expected to hit $400 million — about one-third the amount now being budgeted for state government, Romney noted.

Conferences are scheduled for Pontiac Sept. 19, Lansing Sept. 21, Grand Rapids Sept. 23, Port Huron Sept. 26, Kalamazoo Sept. 28, Manistee Sept. 30, Iron Mountain Oct. 3, Alpena Oct. 5 and Ypsilanti Oct. 7.

Nearly 21,000 State Students Lack Teachers

DETROIT (AP) — Nearly 21,000 Michigan students today were threatened with loss of classes because of contract disputes in which teachers have stayed away from work.

Among the students are 12,500 scheduled to register Thursday for classes at Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn, a Detroit suburb.

Most of the college's 150 faculty members stayed away from school duties Tuesday — the first public higher education teachers' strike in recent Michigan history. The two-year college was picketed throughout the day.

In Traverse City, where about 5,400 pupils were limited to half-day sessions Tuesday because 104 of the 143 teachers did not report for work, a Circuit Court judge issued a temporary order to restrain the teachers from striking.

Judge Charles Brown scheduled a hearing for Sept. 12 to show cause why the order should not be made permanent. The Traverse City teachers, like those at the Henry Ford College, have not agreed with the Board of Education on a master contract.

Most of the 150 Riverview School District teachers failed to show up Tuesday for work in that Detroit suburb.

Riverview's 3,000 pupils were to report for classes today.

The threat of strikes against Michigan school districts, affecting more than a dozen schools across the state in recent weeks, was reduced Tuesday when teachers in Detroit and Hamtramck ratified contracts.

Birth Control Crusader Dies

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Margaret Sanger, the tiny New York nurse who crusaded since the turn of the century for the right of women to prevent unwanted childbirth, died Tuesday at 82.

She lived to see her goals accepted by foreign governments and by millions throughout a crowded world.

Appalled by the physical tortures faced by poverty-stricken women especially, Mrs. Sanger launched a life-long battle to gain official recognition of birth control.

Kenneth Baldwin Of Nadeau Killed As Auto Crashes

MENOMINEE (AP) — A 29-year-old Upper Peninsula man was killed early Tuesday when he lost control of his car and smashed into the bedroom of a house on a Menominee County road, 35 miles north of here. The car of Kenneth Baldwin of Nadeau struck several trees before crashing into the house owned by Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Poupore, who were knocked out of bed by the impact.

South Africa Selects New Leader In Week

HENDRIK VERWOERD, prime minister of South Africa, is carried on a stretcher down the steps of Parliament Building in Cape Town Tuesday after he was stabbed by a newly-hired employee of the lawmaking body. ## Party Pledges Apartheid Will Remain Policy

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — South Africa's ruling white Nationalist party announced its "unshakable determination" today to maintain the course set by its assassinated leader, Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd.

As police continued their investigation of Verwoerd's assassination, the party's parliamentary caucus met in Cape Town to approve a message of condolence on the death of their leader Tuesday.

The pledge to uphold his policies confirmed expectations that Verwoerd's death would mean no modification of the government's militant apartheid policy of racial segregation.

The caucus is expected to meet next week to select a new party leader who automatically will become prime minister. The party has almost a 3-1 majority in Parliament.

Funeral Saturday

Verwoerd will be buried Saturday in Pretoria.

After a state funeral in Pretoria, the administrative capital, the body of Verwoerd will be laid to rest in "Hero's Acre" in West Cemetery where lies his predecessor, Johannes Strijdom.

Following Verwoerd's assassination, Finance Minister Theophilus Dones became acting prime minister.

Dones was considered a strong contender for the premiership.

Others mentioned as possible successors are Transport Minister Ben Schoeman, a former railroad worker who is leader of the House of Assembly, and Justice Minister Balthazar Vorster.

Whites Back Apartheid

Vorster, at 51 one of the cabinet's younger members, is likely to get support from extreme rightist elements in the ruling party. He drafted most of the country's harsh suppression of communism laws, under which the government's apartheid policy of racial segregation is being enforced, and is responsible for internal security.

There is little or no likelihood that Verwoerd's successor will modify the Nationalist government's apartheid policies, which have the backing of the majority of the country's 3.1 million whites. There are 10 million blacks in South Africa.

Police so far have not released any information on their interrogation of Dimitri Tsafendas, a white parliamentary messenger they identified as the man who plunged a knife into Verwoerd's heart and neck as the 64-year-old prime minister sat at his desk in Parliament.

Neglecting Whites

But Tsafendas' coworkers said he was obsessed with the high cost of living when he said especially penalized South Africa's "poor whites," mostly manual workers on the lower income scale.

He reportedly told his colleagues that the government was doing too much for the colored-people of mixed blood — and neglecting the poor whites. He also reportedly complained he could not make ends meet on his monthly salary of $140.

A native of Portuguese Mozambique of Greek descent, he is about 45 and reportedly unmarried. He had been a parliamentary messenger for only a few weeks.

There was no indication that the accused killer was associated with any political organization.

The assassination came just two days before Verwoerd's 65th birthday. The killer, wearing the black and green uniform of a parliamentary messenger, knifed Verwoerd repeatedly as the prime minister sat awaiting the start of a parliamentary session.

Contract Vote

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Kent County Employees Association voted today on a proposed contract with the county. The contract provides for wage hikes of ten per cent in October, an additional two per cent for sheriff's deputies and expanded fringe benefits. The pact must be approved by the salary committee of the board of supervisors.

U.S. Jets Chop Up Red Railways

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American fighter-bombers again chopped up the two North Vietnamese rail lines between Hanoi and Communist China, the U.S. military command reported today.

In simultaneous blows at the vital supply links, Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs pounded the northwest line 102 miles from Hanoi Tuesday while others bombed the northeast line 55 miles from the capital.

Ground fighting slowed to scattered small actions, but reports of Viet Cong terrorism aimed at disrupting the national elections Sunday came from several sections of the country. U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots flew 136 missions against North Viet Nam Tuesday, 20 short of their record. They hit oil depots, supply areas, a missile site and barges as well as the major rail lines.

The pilots bombed and strafed a 15-car train on the northeast line, destroying five box cars and damaging one and cutting the line in three places, the spokesman said.

On the northwest or Red River route, other Thunderchief pilots reported knocking out a bridge and ripping up the rails in three places.

Pilots reported bomb hits on three fuel dumps and said they damaged or destroyed 24 buildings, 16 bridges, 45 cargo barges, 13 junks and three anti-aircraft sites. Navy fighters from the aircraft carrier Intrepid reported knocking out a surface-to-air missile site eight miles southwest of the coastal city of Vinh.

The U.S. command in a delayed report announced the loss of a Navy F8 Crusader Monday night. The carrier plane was shot down 50 miles south of Hanoi and the pilot is missing. It was the 362nd plane announced lost over the north and the second shot down that day.

No significant ground action was reported by American spokesmen today, but South

Metal Stamping Plant Opens At Sault Ste. Marie

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Bunker Manufacturing Co. Wednesday announced the opening of a plant to produce precision metal stampings and sub-assemblies primarily for the automotive industry.

Robert Bunker, president of the firm, said the site was chosen because of proximity to Canada's second largest steel producer, surplus labor supplies, Michigan Technological University, and overnight transportation to Detroit, Chicago and Milwaukee markets.

The new plant has 12,000 square feet of floor space and contains complete tool and die making facilities.

Guild Comes To Terms:

Merged Paper To Publish

NEW YORK (AP) — Employees report to work today at the World Journal Tribune after a contract settlement between the New York Newspaper Guild and the new merged paper made its publication Monday a virtual certainty.

The Guild came to terms Tuesday, 135 days after it had struck the new corporation April 21. The dispute, which grew to include nine other unions, constituted the longest shutdown of a daily newspaper in the nation's history.

Printers and advertising and circulation department employees were scheduled to start work today with reporters, photographers and office personnel joining them later in the week in preparation for Monday's first edition.

Only a ratification vote by the stereotypers' union Sunday renamed a possible block to publication of the afternoon and Sunday paper. No vote on their new contracts is required by the other unions.

The Guild struck the merged paper, born of the consolidation of the Journal American, the World Telegram and Sun and the Herald Tribune, the day before it was to have begun publication. Other craft unions refused to work without new contracts.

Board Accepts Heating Offer

The Escanaba Area Board of Education accepted an offer from Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. to convert the high school heating system from oil to gas fuel for an amount "not to exceed $5,500." Tuesday night at a special meeting.

Action was taken after the Board received no bids on performing the conversion work.

The Board of Education last month approved changing the system from the present oil to natural gas. At the time, Michigan Consolidated said it could make the conversion at the quoted price. Work is expected to be completed by early October, within 30 days of contract date.

In other action, the Board formally approved contracts for the following teachers: Petronella Beauchamp, Soo Hill 4th; Paul Ristvedt, Webster 6th; Ruth Chase, elementary vocal music; Richard E. Ferrario, high school political science; Vieno Heirman, junior high core, and Kathleen Feller, high school science.

The Board also approved salary adjustments for school nurses Anita Kotila and Ruth Seymour. Miss Kotila will receive a raise from $5,500 to $6,150. Mrs. Seymour, who was not employed full time last year and is paid only for hours of duty, will receive a comparable adjustment in hourly rate.

Neither had received consideration in recently completed contract negotiations with either the Escanaba Education Association or the Escanaba Non-Professional Employees Association.

Mental Health:

Expand Program To Serve Adults

An expanded program of service in the field of mental health is being established for four counties in the Upper Peninsula, centered in Marquette. It was reported to the Rotary Club of Escanaba at its Tuesday noon luncheon.

Howard Lamb, Marquette, regional coordinator, Michigan Department of Mental Health, described the changes that will occur as the mental health services and facilities are improved and developed.

The speaker was introduced by John Greene of the Rotary Club's program committee and the meeting was conducted by Isadore Stein, club president. Marquette, Alger, Delta and Schoolcraft counties are in the program area for which a federal grant of $90,000 has been approved on a local fund participation basis over a five-year period.

The first year will require a 28 per cent local contribution. At the close of the five years the federal funds will be "phased out," Lamb reported. Marquette county will be expected to raise $7,000 in participating funds. Delta $3,000, and Schoolcraft and Alger $1,000 each. This will be in addition to present funding which from Delta is now $2,975.

Community approval is essential to the success of the program, said Lamb.

"We can never lick the mental health problem with the present staff," he said. "We need more personnel and the cooperation of teachers, doctors and ministers."

The expanded program will provide funds for the employment of 11 persons. Two of these — a psychologist and a psychiatrist — will be assigned to Escanaba.

The Child Guidance work will be continued as part of a community mental health program.

Tourist Season Largest Ever

DETROIT (AP) — Labor Day climaxed what the Automobile Club of Michigan calls "the biggest summer tourist season in Michigan history."

Reports from tourist centers indicate that persons were out enjoying themselves and pumping money into the state's third largest industry at a pace which guarantees Michigan its first billion dollar tourist year, the Auto Club said Monday.

Travel across Michigan is up 13 per cent and attendance at state parks has continued to increase.

The tourist bureau in Manistee reported that inquiries for tourist information this year have doubled over last year. Use of resort and motels in the area has jumped 50 per cent, said the Auto Club report.

Tourist literature requests were reported up 25 per cent at the John Mackie rest area near Clare.

The Fourth of July weekend was the biggest of the holiday weekend which set new travel and spending records. A record 10,000 persons took part in the annual Labor Day walk across the Mackinac Bridge.

The Auto Club said that the predicted 520 million miles of travel in Michigan over the Labor day weekend might not have been reached, because of bad weather during the weekend.

Some areas are already anticipating the winter tourist season. One ski resort at Gaylord reports it is booked to capacity for weekends during the 1966-67 ski season.

Experts Disagree On Cooling The Economy

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — The two hottest things this year have been the weather and the economy, and there is a good chance that neither will cool much until fall.

Temperatures can be forecast closely and measured exactly. But what happens when Washington blows coolants on the economy? It's not nearly as precise.

Inflation is a pickpocket. President Johnson says, but a recession resulting from too much anti-inflation would be a housebreaker.

The economy has been booming now for six years and its fever is measured in the highest interest rates in 40 or 45 years. As some economists view it, the nation is demanding too much from its body, perhaps pushing itself beyond its ability to fulfill its wishes.

Should demand be cooled? How? By high interest rates, taxes, less government spending? And how should the medicine be measured out when you consider that an overdose could provoke a recession?

The burden of slowing demand so far has been on interest rates — monetary policy — and much of the banking community is angry. Few people like high interest for long. The banks of course get more for their money but they pay more, too. They feel the government should cut spending and perhaps increase taxes. In other words, use fiscal policy as a coolant.

The administration, naturally, has been slow to move in this election year.

First, there is a dangerous time lag between application of restraints and the time they take effect. Some of the Federal Reserve's restrictive monetary policies of many months ago, for example, are just now cutting into demand.

Secondly, there is much disagreement among the experts on the potential effect of any measure.

Proof that the same figures mean different things are the economic predictions of last December, supposedly scientifically arrived at and now being revised — scientifically.

Focus on this variety of interpretation came this week from the First National City Bank, the third largest in the nation, which broke ranks with much of the banking fraternity and suggested that perhaps we've been misreading the economic signs.

Maybe demand is not excessive, the bank said. Perhaps inflation can be checked by encouraging productivity growth rather than by checking demand too harshly.

Raising personal income taxes again — on top of higher Social Security and state and local taxes — would reduce the incentives for work while whetting demands for higher wages," it said.

"There is a danger," it cautioned, "to over-reacting to increases in widely publicized indexes." Perhaps, it suggested, we should stop bickering over the economic pie and simply bake a bigger one.

Mine Safety Act Sent To Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent to President Johnson a compromise bill designed to raise health and safety standards in mines other than coal mines.

The House and Senate approved the measure Wednesday after a joint conference ironed out many differences between originally approved versions.

The measure would give the Federal Bureau of Mines authority to prescribe health and safety rules and inspection and enforcement powers in metal and nonmetallic mines, except for coal which is covered by an existing law.

It also would permit states to develop and enforce health and safety programs in mines. State plans would be subject to approval by the secretary of the interior. In such cases, there would be some joint federal and state inspection authority.

About Headshrinking

Howard Lamb, regional coordinator in Northern Michigan for the Michigan Department of Mental Health, told the Escanaba Rotary Club about the need for a new setup to provide mental health services in the Mid-Upper Peninsula.

We've always had mental illness, but it used to be regarded as insanity if it were serious and the patient was sent to a state mental hospital like the one at Newberry. Once committed, he was pretty apt to stay there.

The whole outlook on mental illness today is greatly changed—and for the better. There are all sorts of mental illnesses in today's concept and there are many degrees of them. The effort now is to avoid sending the mentally ill to hospitals unless they need special treatment only available there, and to get patients who are in the hospitals out of them and back into their communities for treatment there.

The commonplace of mental illness and the increasing provisions to treat it is dramatically exemplified by the United Auto Workers which has added mental health services to the union's hospitalization and outpatient insurance. This hasn't been offered before.

A medical spokesman for the union said that mental illness is disproportionately a problem for the working class, and that workers resist and suspect the help that can be given by the community.

This reaction is reported not prompted by anti-semitism toward mental health workers, but simply a reflection of the fear with which workers view mental illness.

The mid-Peninsula area is more familiar with mental health services to children than to adults. Delta County has for years had a branch of the U.P. Child Guidance Clinic in Escanaba. It is now proposed that Delta County enlarge this program into one which serves adults as well as children.

A four-county program would be set up with headquarters at Marquette and a branch at Escanaba to serve Marquette, Delta, Schoolcraft and Alger counties.

The federal government has offered $90,000 of carryover money for 1967 to get it started. There would be a diminishing grant each year for five years and then the four county district would be on its own resources and those of the State of Michigan's mental health program under Act 54, which provides 75 per cent state funds to match 25 per cent provided locally.

The program would add 11 workers to the present staff, with two to be assigned to the Escanaba clinic, a psychologist and second psychiatric social worker, to make a staff of three.

Delta County, now spending about $3,000 a year on mental health, would be asked to add another $3,000. Marquette would be asked for $7,000 more and Schoolcraft and Alger for $1,000 each.

The Delta County Board of Supervisors holds the fate of the plan. It will be asked to finance it and to name two members of a committee which would select a 12 member board to administer the four county program.

The program has been rather hurriedly conceived and presented in a disorganized and confused manner. This is unfortunate because it is very important and the forerunner for an inevitable and needed program of expanded mental health services. Delta County's representatives may want to dicker with Marquette and the state officials about who gets what in staffing, but the four county program is a logical plan and promises more for the money spent than could be obtained by each county going it alone.

What is this mental illness about which we now hear so much? It's not new, although its incidence is heightened by the stresses of modern living. Essentially it's a sick mind, as differentiated from a sick body. It's general nervousness, it's feeling ill at ease with people, being unable to concentrate, suffering insomnia, loss of appetite, feeling unwell, feeling that things aren't right, being depressed, expecting doom, being irritable.

But well people suffer all these symptoms at times. Of course, but when the feelings persist you're ill. You develop an imbalance between what you think and what you feel.

Rural oriented boards of supervisors will come face to face with a modern problem when they tackle this one, but they'd better tackle it. The hope is that we can send fewer patients to Newberry State Hospital and use new mental therapy to keep more people out of the looney bin.

The Doctor Says:

Reach For Glass Of Water

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

A reader asks how he can quit smoking. In order to get a line on this question a group of teen-agers were asked why they smoked. A surprising number answered that they really didn't like to smoke but did so because they wanted to be one of the crowd. Unfortunately, they forgot that the people that the world has always admired most are the ones who stand out from the crowd. Some persons who have smoked for 20 or 30 years say, "I know it is a loathsome and dangerous habit but I just can't kick it."

Deep down these people know that, if they want to truly live, they could kick it but they are the ones who never quite believe that nicotine poisoning will affect their heart or their lungs. It may kill some other guy but it won't kill them.

I would say to them: Is it really necessary to have a heart attack or develop emphysema or lung cancer to make you decide to quit smoking? One aid to stopping is to reach for a glass of water instead of a cigarette. During the first five or six days of going without smoking you should also avoid alcohol. Those who adopt this plan find themselves drinking seven or eight glasses of water a day. This helps

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Biggest Harvest Ever

Pulp Wood Breaks Record

The severe drop-off in woods labor in Michigan in 1965 did not prevent the state from setting a record in pulpwood production, reports Ray E. Pfeifer, forest resource analyst for the Michigan Department of Conservation.

The result is rather surprising to a wood industry which suffered a serious shortening of production because of new Michigan legislation putting a much heavier burden of workmen's compensation costs on loggers.

Many wood workers were brought under workmen's compensation coverage for the first time by the new legislation, which reduced from three to one the number of men in a woods crew who must be covered by compensation insurance.

"Those who were made painfully aware of the abrupt slowdown in woods work in the last quarter of the year will be surprised to note that production earlier in the year was high enough to result in a net increase for the year over previous years," said Pfeifer.

Going Still Higher

It is very apparent at this point in 1966 that new influences are now boosting pulpwood production to the highest levels yet.

Among the influences are higher prices. Mills buying mid-Upper Peninsula wood now are paying $23.50 to $24.50 per cord for peeled aspen (popple) delivered at the mill.

Pfeifer said 1965 saw some firming up of the price and expansion of the market for sawmill and veneer mill residue as pulpwood. This helps sawmills with their waste disposal problem and helps pulp mills diversify their wood supply sources.

Complete dependence on roundwood has made pulpwood procurement very sensitive to fluctuations in woods labor availability, said Pfeifer. "Better markets for more materials and products should improve the economic position of sawmills and make them better customers for the forest landowners," he said. "The trend is sure to continue."

Highest Ever

Michigan pulpwood production in 1965 was 1,365,140 cords the highest ever. It compares with 1,321,455 cords in 1964 and 898,800 cords in 1958.

The Upper Peninsula contributed the biggest part of the wood 740,800 cords since 1962. The Lower Peninsula cut 573,300 cords in 1965.

Menominee County continued as the state's No. 1 pulpwood producer with 91,628 cords and

Delta County was in second place with 81,188 cords. Other county productions:

Iron 79,204.
Marquette 71,364.
Baraga 62,492.
Dickinson 61,679.
Houghton 57,529.
Gogebic 53,875.
Ontonagon 45,043.
Schoolcraft 38,054.
Luce 33,744.
Chippewa 30,168.
Mackinac 15,129.
Alger 10,766.
Keweenaw 8,466.

Aspen Volume Biggest

Biggest species volume cut was aspen, 349,376 cords in the U. P.; pine was second with 112,316 cords and balsam was third with 71,277. Hemlock, a declining species, still accounted for 64,051 cords; spruce, once the king of the U. P. pulping woods and still a highly desirable species for fiber quality, but high priced, accounted for 64,448 cords. Birch, which is growing in usage, accounted for 5,867 and the trend toward dense hardwood usage in pulping was noted in the volume of 71,070 cords of "other hardwoods." The tamarack cordage was 2,412.

Michigan continued to lead the other Lake States, Wisconsin and Minnesota, in production of pulpwood, its 1.3 million cords comparing with Wisconsin's 1.1 million and Minnesota's 996,000.

Michigan pulpwood went to market this way: Wisconsin 608,000 cords; Lower Michigan 592,000; Upper Peninsula 159,000.

Michigan Mirror

By ELMER E. WHITE

Disclosure by two public officials of recent threats on their lives focused attention on one of the newest units of state government: the State Commission on Crime, Delinquency and Criminal Administration.

The commission, like several before it, was appointed to do a specific job, but likely will be in existence for a considerable time because of the breadth of its assignment.

Reports from Attorney General Frank J. Kelley and Wayne County Judge and Grand Juror Edward Piggins that their lives were threatened because of their anti-crime activities will certainly become part of the commission's concern.

Official assignment of the Governor was to seek additional ways of preventing crime, and improving law enforcement, administration of justice and rehabilitation of offenders.

Nearly a year ago, many months before the commission was formed, State Police Intelligence Chief Lt. Raymond H. McConnell described organized crime as possibly a greater threat to American society than communism.

A big part of this threat, he said, is the large amount of money available nationally (and presumably in Michigan) for corrupt purposes with judges, police, courts and other public officials.

Kelley's and Piggins' disclosures brought out McConnell's point distinctly. Apparently the threatening parties decided money would not deter these two men from their public responsibilities.

National statistics on crime and delinquency rise annually. Michigan is no exception.

The 47-man commission hopes to have some recommendations ready by the end of this year. Despite its seemingly unwieldy size, the commission's makeup tends to encourage the idea that some progress might be forthcoming.

Chicken Ducked Fame

By WASHINGTON STAFF

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Reporters tracking the forest fires which recently raged across southeastern Alaska had a tough time date-lining their copy. They finally settled on Chicken, Alaska, a small collection of frame buildings dating back to the Klondike gold rush.

Though there is some doubt that Chicken is a town—no cartographer has ever seen fit to put it on a map—it does have a post office, which almost gained it a small bit of fame in 1948.

Having decided on a stamp commemorating the 100th anniversary of the poultry industry, the Post Office Department settled on Chicken as the most appropriate place to issue it.

An inspector was sent up from Seattle to make the necessary preparations. After almost failing to find Chicken, he discovered that the post office consisted of a few feet of counter space at the back of a general store. On the counter was a box of stamps, a few money order forms and the postmaster.

The inspector explained to the incredulous postmaster-storekeeper that great things were about to happen to Chicken. Thousands of requests for first-day cancellations would soon be pouring in.

Each envelope, he explained, should be carefully postmarked so the cancellation would be perfectly straight and not low enough to deface the stamp.

When he finished, the postmaster picked up a gunny sack, dropped the stamp box, the money order forms and the postmarker into it, handed it to the inspector and said:

"Here's your post office. I quit."

The poultry stamp was finally issued from New Haven, Conn.

The National Rifle Association, spearhead of the lobby which is fighting the administration's firearms control bill, is still carrying advertisements in its monthly magazine for the same type of weapon which was used to assassinate John F. Kennedy.

Though advertised as a "lightweight Term Carbine," it is identical to the Carcano rifle which Lee Oswald bought through the mails under an assumed name.

The Sierra Club, which has spent thousands of dollars to defeat the two Grand Canyon dams that are part of the Central Arizona Project, once endorsed the more controversial of the two.

In 1949, the club's board of directors unanimously approved a resolution endorsing Bridge (now called Hualapai) Canyon Dam. The proposed dam would have backed water much farther into the national park than the one now being considered by Congress.

Computers are being used in increasing numbers to keep track of voters in large metropolitan areas. In New York city, officials are now blaming the machines for this registration goof.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Zieske of Queens received notice that they were registered to vote in separate districts. Commented Zieske:

"It seems that they've gerrymandered my bedroom, as we have twin beds."

Gemini Launch Set On Friday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Relaxed after a free weekend, the Gemini 11 astronauts today began final preparations for their launching Friday on a three-day space flight.

Navy Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr. and Cmdr. Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr. flew back to Cape Kennedy Monday night after spending the Labor Day weekend with their families in Houston, Texas.

In the next few days they will concentrate on reviewing their flight plan and practicing key phases of the demanding mission in a spacecraft simulator.

The next-to-last Gemini shot will attempt four major new feats: a record first-orbit rendezvous and linkup with an Agena satellite, a dash to a record altitude of 863 miles, flying formation while tied to the Agena by a 100-foot cord, and an automatic re-entry through the atmosphere.

Gordon plans two space excursions during the journey — a 107-minute space walk and a 140-minute "space stand" in which he'll poke the upper part of his body through a hatch to photograph the stars.

Vacation is over. More than 6,000 Delta County students, from kindergarten tots who will attend school only half days, to high school seniors, most of whom will be completing their formal education, won't roll over for another forty winks but will be up and off to school afoot, on bicycles, or aboard school buses.

There were more days of sunshine in the district of Escanaba during the month of August just closed, than in any previous August in the history of Escanaba. There were 23 days last month in which the sun shone and 17 of which were entirely devoid of clouds.

The cost of high living for some was reduced. The price of gasoline dropped one cent a gallon on the Escanaba market. Announcement of the reduction was made by J. G. Moore, district agent for the Standard Oil Company.

Ann Landers

Airways Clogged By Dirty Musical Lyrics

Dear Ann Landers: Church leaders, The Supreme Court and spokesmen for civic groups are busily condemning dirty books and magazines while the radio continues to blast forth rock and roll music with the filthiest lyrics that ever fell on human ears.

Nobody seems to be doing one thing about it. Do the airways belong to the disc jockeys alone? What's wrong with our parents? Have they gone stone deaf?

The other evening I heard a few unbelievable verses about a girl and boy who were making out in a drive-in movie when they fell asleep. The cops came and oh well — you get the idea. I couldn't believe my ears so I bought the record and it was all there.

And then there's another song called, "They're Coming To Take Me Away — Ha Ha." I don't think that record is one bit funny, especially for folks who have relatives in mental hospitals.

It's getting so I don't want to turn on the radio anymore. Our children are only 3 and 5 and I hope the airways are cleaned up before they are old enough to understand some of these lyrics.

Is there something we mothers can do about this? — RED WHITE OR BLUE?

Dear Red: You bet! You can scream like an eagle and I hope you will.

Call and write the offending radio station. Wire the Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D. C. Write to the sponsors and tell them you're boycotting their products until they clean up the music they are paying for.

I am bored with that old line, "We must give the people what they want." There are millions of people who DON'T want trash and I'm for letting the people in charge know it.

Dear Ann Landers: I am not even a teen-ager yet but I have a big problem. Can you help me?

Ever since I was born I have not kissed anyone, not even my parents. Some of my friends have noticed this and have asked me about it. I am very embarrassed because I don't know what to tell them. Most kids get kisses from their moms and dads but I never got any. I feel funny when an aunt or someone bends down for me to kiss them because I just can't make myself do it. We end up rubbing cheeks.

Can you explain what is the matter with me? Is there any cure for my problem? — WOR-RIED GIRL

Dear Girl: Some families are very demonstrative and others are not. Your parents probably kiss you when you are younger but you don't remember.

The Time to "cure" the problem is now — before it becomes a serious hangup. Here is my suggestion: Start by kissing your doll good-night. A cheek kiss is best. Once you break the ice with your parents you will not feel funny when your other relatives kiss you.

Ruppe is running for the 11th District Congress seat now held by Rep. Raymond Clevenger (D-Sault Ste. Marie). The district extends from Ironwood to Alpena, includes all 15 U. P. counties and 7 in the top of the Lower Peninsula.

Ruppe opened his primary campaign at a dinner meeting in Menominee July 30.

Club Has Final Plans For Big Auction Sale

The Escanaba Exchange Club completed plans for the upcoming auction sale Tuesday night. The sale will be held Sept. 10, 11, 17 and 18 at the Fairground exhibition building starting at 1 p. m. each day.

Some of the items of this year's sale will be live registered ponies, appliances of all kinds, antiques, a side of beef, and other groceries. Members of the club have been collecting items from residents and merchants of Delta County for the sale and everyone has been most generous, it was reported. Bank financing will be available.

Colonel George Lockard will again donate his services as auctioneer. The money from the sale will help finance the operation of the Exchange Club's dental clinic for underprivileged children of Delta County. A portion of the proceeds will go to the J. F. Kennedy School for Retarded Children and the Retarded Children's Association will operate the concession stand at the sale.

Persons having items to donate may call 786-4250 or they may bring the items to the auction sale on any day it is being held.

Shopping Center Would Detract From Downtown

The establishment of a large shopping center on S. 23rd St. would in the opinion of Escanaba's professional planning consultants have a harmful effect on efforts to develop the downtown business district.

Dave Kennedy, planner in charge of the Escanaba program for Harland, Bartholomew and Associates, Chicago, so told the Kiwanis Club at its luncheon meeting on Tuesday.

Replying to a question at the conclusion of his progress report on the planning project for Escanaba, Kennedy said that "a small neighborhood shopping place for the convenience of the people in the area" would not detract seriously from the established downtown business district.

"About 50% Done
"But a large shopping center would tend to pull from the present business district and hamper efforts to develop the downtown," Kennedy told the Kiwanians.

(A public hearing in connection with a proposal to rezone about 40 acres on S. 23rd St. from residential to light industrial will be held by the Escanaba Planning Commission in the City Hall at 8 p. m. Thursday.)

The city's zoning plan already provides for local business on S. 23rd St. at 5th Ave. S. and at 18th Ave. S.

Logger's Meet At Iron River Starts Thursday

The 21st annual Lake States Logging Congress will open on Thursday, at the Iron County Fair grounds at Iron River. The Congress is sponsored by the Timber Producers Association of Michigan and Wisconsin. Schindler, President of Prentice Loader Sales announced that plans are nearing completion and that large crowds are anticipated during this three day convention.

The Congress will open at 1 p. m. Thursday, followed by log loading contests, a tree climbing demonstration and a sawing demonstration by the Milwaukee Brothers of Wakefield.

On Friday there will be the preliminary national chain saw contest at 9 a. m., with the finals in the afternoon at 2. The Logging Congress banquet will be held Friday at 7 p. m. at the Iron County Armory, highlighted by a talk given by Mrs. George Romney, wife of Michigan's governor.

Two men prominent in the timber industry will be honored at the banquet with Awards of Merit going to Earl Luke of Michigan, and William Ruona of Pelkie, for their service to the industry.

The Logging Congress will be climaxed on Saturday at 2 p. m. with the annual parade.

Celotex Plant Hit By Strike

L'ANSE (AP)—Production has stopped at the Celotex plant in this northeast Upper Peninsula community following a strike Monday night by members of the International Woodworkers Union.

Some 200 workers are employed at the hardboard factory. A union spokesman said workers are seeking an increase in wages which presently average $2.33 an hour. The company contends profits are marginal at L'Anse.

Union and company representatives met for five hours Sunday without agreement. The strike vote was unanimous.

The strike makes two Copper Country wood products plants suffering strikes. About 200 employees have been out more than three weeks at the Hoerner-Waldorf paper board mill at Ontonagon.

Celotex Corp. ownership and administration have changed since it built its L'Anse plant. At the time it was concerned about the loss of supplies of bagasse from sugar cane processing as a material for wall-board made in the south. The advent of the Castro dictatorship in Cuba changed the sugar and bagasse markets and made Celotex less dependent upon northern pulpwoods than it had expected to be.

The mill is the newest paper board mill in the Lake States and somewhat experimental. It was designed to be very adaptable to varied pulping woods, but has not in practice used the variety intended in its design. The internal stresses of ownership change have also influenced its orientation.

Celotex bought a large area of U. P. timberland from the Ford Fund to supply materials for its paper board mill operations, but it has bought much wood on the open market.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Dear Folks:

Let's come to grips with the facts.

Canned drinks just DO leave rust on the bottom of a metal picnic cooler.

Last week while I was packing my cooler for a picnic, I happened to spy a sweet roll throw-away tin. It fitted perfectly in the bottom of our cooler.

The result was no rust to clean off later. You might try it.

If you have no foil throw-away tins, why not try lining the chest with a piece of heavy foil?

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

This idea has helped me get my small son to sleep more quickly. It may help other mothers who have the same problem.

I removed the cotton from my son's large teddy bear, and inserted a zipper around the opening.

At night when my boy does not want to go to sleep, I fill a plastic bottle with warm water (with the lid tightly closed) and insert it in the opening in the bear, then zip shut.

My son sure loves his warm sleeping partner!

Bethany Lutheran Church School Begins Sunday

The Rev. Dr. Walfred E. Nelson announces that the first sessions of the Bethany Lutheran Church School will be held next Sunday, Sept. 11 at 9 a. m. The Bethany Church is located at the corner of First Ave. S. and 11th St. All former pupils are encouraged to be present for the first session and new members are encouraged to be present for the first session and new members are welcome.

Pre-School through the third grade will meet in the church basement at 9 a. m. for choir rehearsal. Students in grades four through nine will meet at 9 a. m. for class. A special announcement will be made before each session about contests which will be conducted for attendance and missionary activities.

The Lutheran Church in America has been working for many years to develop a new church school curriculum. For the past two years materials have been added. This year new courses for the pre-school through the second grade will be used.

The new curriculum has provided studies that make it possible for every congregation to assist individuals of all ages in their growth toward Christian maturity. The sequence of courses is planned so that pupils gain an unfolding understanding of the Scriptures. By the sixth grade the pupil will have studied all of the basic stories and most portions of the Bible. In later years the study is constantly broadened and intensified. Emphasis is placed on a comprehensive understanding of the central message of the Bible as a whole.

Group discussions, research work, role-playing, projects and other activities draw pupils into learning experiences. The pupils' whole personality becomes involved and helps growth toward Christian maturity. All courses seek to help the learner relate the unchanging truth of the gospel to his own life in today's fast changing world.

The choir program at Bethany is considered as part of the Church School Curriculum. The time schedule for all grades on Sunday morning is divided into three parts. Approximately a third of the time is spent in class study, another third in music education and the last portion in worship. Most children attend all of the sessions. The Bethany Church feels that the choir program is important in getting children to learn about worship, learning to serve the church, and it also gets the children to worship each week. The Children's Choir is for children in grades four through nine and sings the first three Sundays of each month. The Church Choir is for pre-school children through the third grade and they sing on special occasions.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Holy Name High School and a 1966 graduate of Bay de Noc Community School of Practical Nursing. Mr. Martin graduated from Gladstone High School and also attended Bay de Noc Community College.

Virgin Charter Sweeps England

READING, England (AP) — So many teen-age girls want to take a no-sex vow that Reading's League of Honor is in danger of collapse.

"It's all become too big for our small society to handle," said organizer Fred Jackman, 50.

Jackman, who has two teenage daughters, is secretary of the Reading Temperance Society, which founded the league several months ago. Girls were invited to sign a form pledging to renounce sex outside marriage, and encourage other youngsters to do the same.

The pledge became known locally as "the virgins' charter."

Word of its existence spread to other parts of England and to countries overseas. The result, said the worried organizer, was that hundreds of girls wrote to Reading asking for copies of the pledge. It is becoming just too much work for Jackman.

"What we need now," he told a reporter, "is someone interested in the scheme to take over as national secretary. Unpaid, I'm afraid."

Bear Kill Small In Opener

Fewer hunters took to the woods this year than last on the opening day of the special early September bear season.

The season, restricted to the Upper Peninsula (except for Keweenaw County), opened Thursday and produced a small kill, partly because of the reduced number of hunters and partly because of unseasonably hot weather. Temperatures in the 90's prevented dogs from holding bear tracks and caused them to tire quickly.

Even so, several confirmed kills were reported by the Michigan Conservation Department on opening day. Among them were bears taken in the vicinity of Baraga, L'Anse, Three Lakes in Baraga County, Wakefield, Ishpeming (two killed) and the Paradise-Tahquamenon Falls area of Chippewa County (two killed).

Some large concentrations of hunters were reported in scattered parts of the Peninsula on opening day. The biggest collection was a group of 65 hunters in the Rexton area in Chippewa County. Twenty-five to 30 downstate hunters, members of the Michigan Bear Hunters Association, ran 12 dogs in the Ralph area of Dickinson County without registering a kill. A group of 10 hunters from Kentucky hunted with dogs in the Winona area near Nisula without success on opening day.

Other concentrations of hunters were reported north of Sidiaw, on the Baraga Plains, along the Herman Road in Baraga County, in northeastern Delta County.

The special early season continues through Sept. 15. Bear hunting then becomes illegal until Oct. 1, when bears again may be hunted in the Upper Peninsula only (excluding Keweenaw County) with or without dogs and with either guns or bows until Nov. 5.

Last year, when hunting also was limited to the Upper Peninsula, 3,514 bear licenses were sold for the early season. Hunters took 334 bear.

MEA Lifting Sanctions On Farwell School

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Education Association has lifted sanctions against the Farwell School District.

The sanctions — warning to professional educators to avoid a school district — were imposed last month on the grounds the board of education in that north central Michigan community had told teachers who did not sign their contracts by July 11 they would be fired.

This had been followed up by an announcement that those positions still vacant due to a failure to sign contracts would be filled with new personnel, the association said.

In a letter to the local board, Farwell School Supt. Harold Elenbaas and the Farwell Education Association, E. Dale Kennedy, executive director of the association, said:

"We find the situation improved and a complete set of working personnel policies for teachers written into a contractual agreement between the two parties."

Study Ability

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — A group of American and British educators will meet at Indiana University here to plan a comparative study of 20,000 U.S. and British high school pupils.

The study will investigate pupil ability in math, reading, English usage and science.

Return Remington

FT. RILEY, Kan. (AP) — An original oil, "Mexican Cavalry Moving," by American painter Frederic Remington, has been returned to its owner — the 1st Armored Division. The painting had been stored at the Nelson Gallery in Kansas City, Mo., for about 25 years and was returned recently to the Ft. Riley Museum.

Trout Fishing Ends On Sunday

Fishing has been at a standstill throughout the Escanaba District, the Conservation Department reports.

The Ford River in Delta County is still producing some nice catches of bass on artificial lures. Johnson Lake in Section 27, T45N, R25W, is producing some rainbow by night fishing with corn. Swanzy Lake in Section 13, T45N, R25W, is producing a few brook trout on worms. AuTrain Lake in Alger County is producing a few pike and walleyes. Good catches of bass and pan fish being taken from AuTrain Basin. AuTrain River, south of M-28, is producing good catches of perch.

All trout fishermen are reminded that the last day for trout fishing during the general trout season is Sept. 11.

The following is a list of certain designated waters which are open in the Escanaba District in the extended fall season (through Nov. 30) for rainbow and brown trout.

Policeman Is Killing Witness, Arrests Assailant

NORTHFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A Chicago advertising executive was charged with murder Monday after a policeman said he witnessed the automobile killing of a Michigan man.

Police said Charles G. Stuart, 43, of Sallie, Mich., was struck and killed by a car driven by Nolan A. Vail, 44, after the man had argued.

Policeman Thomas Tobin said he was investigating an accident report when he saw Vail ramming the rear of Stuart's car.

Tobin said he was questioning Stuart when Vail backed his car away, then headed directly for Stuart and the policeman. Tobin leaped aside, but Vail's auto struck and killed Stuart.

Tobin was able to arrest Vail after he fired a shot which grazed the alleged assailant's head and caused Vail to stop his car. He was not seriously injured.

Mayor's Plane Wrecked By Car

COLVILLE, Wash. (AP) — The mayor's airplane was cracked up over the Labor Day weekend — and it never got off the ground.

Saturday night a car left the road bordering the airport, went through a fence and plowed into Mayor Eugene Scamhorn's plane. Damage: about $5,000.

The following night, somebody slipped the plane from its mooring, pushed it 200 feet to the side of the runway and over a 30-foot embankment, police said.

Isn't Only Soup That Is Canned

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
NEW YORK (AP) — You run to the cupboard to get down a can of dress and hat, a can of mink, and a wee can of pearls.

Your husband asks if you will please get him that six-pack of ties on the shelf.

Because you are expecting a guest you may also reach for a vacuum packed chair, and for use in case the conversation grows stale, several cans of fresh air.

For pleasant background you know you can always count on your canned music.

This could be you today, as uncanny as it sounds.

Grandma may have quit preserving things with her boiling pots, jars, rubber rings and paraffin. But the industry she fostered marches on. The pressurized tin cylinder, standard equipment in the bride's kitchen and the doughboy's duffelbag, and the recent flip-top darling of the beverage industry, now store more than mere food and drink.

Recently a dress manufacturer announced it is putting up its dresses and hats in cans. The label matches the lively clashing colors and kaleidoscopic patterns of the garments inside. When the lid pops off, wrinkle-proof, nylon fabric oozes out like shaving cream. Besides floppy hats there are baby trapeze styles, dropped waistlines and body-molding fashions with kinky skirts.

It was a California manufacturer who decided to can men's ties, featuring a handy pack of six for the man who is wearing more than one.

Perhaps the choicest cannery in the country is the stockroom of a New York department store during its holiday season. There in assembly line fashion a busy machine pops lids onto juice sized cylinders containing silk stockings, slacks, mink coats, jewelry, sweaters, sexy lingerie and bikinis.

Canned air is a favorite item sold in gift shops to people who still believe it's the sentiment that really counts.

Fancy candles, matches and puzzles are more nonedibles and nondrinkables sealed in round tins with prestigious labels.

Even without its contents, the can today is very much in vogue. Thanks to pop artist Andy Warhol's popularization of the Campbell soup can, culture-conscious women's clubs on the West Coast serve luncheons still in cans. Hairdresser Julius Caruso uses standard-sized cans as curlers. The arty set in Greenwich Village anneals them together as table legs or smashes them into can-tastic sculpture.

Without a can opener life can be tedious.

Bluffer's Guide Aids Phonies

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — A British publisher is bringing out a series of paperbacks called "The Bluffer's Guides," designed to help readers become successful conversational phonies on a variety of subjects.

Publisher Peter Wolfe says: "I commissioned these on the assumption that most people do not want to learn a subject; that they just want others to think they have and that they know all about the subject."

The first two volumes, which will retail at the equivalent of 50 cents each, give detailed suggestions on how to bluff through literary and musical conversations.

Written by Martin Seymour-Smith, "Bluff Your Way Through Literature" says of critics:

"It must be understood that they are much more important than writers or poets. You must always be on the side of critics. The creative work, praiseworthy as it sometimes is, exists for the purpose of the critics."

"He (the critic) is there to help the creative writer to achieve balance (preferably by stopping him writing), and any kind of sarcasm or irony about critics will be frowned upon by highbrows."

On American novelists the guide says:

"About Hemingway you may have your private reservations, especially about his later work—but it is unsafe, for some reason, to be too particular about these."

On William Faulkner: "You can be critical about Faulkner—but must accept the fact of his 'greatness' even though the acceptance of this abstraction involves not understanding his novels."

On Norman Mailer's "An American Dream": "You need to say that you have read it, of course. By all means criticize it if you wish, or better talk about his baroque quest. But never say that it is unimportant or not worth reading—or that you'd rather reread a play by Shakespeare."

On discussing Jack Kerouac: "If you want to score you might say that he is not really Buddhist, but an unorthodox Franciscan Christian. Add, 'Isn't he?' No one will contradict you."

"Try to avoid embarrassing people by talking about the actual content of his books. Stick to ideas about his ideas—which are useful in that they are very difficult to define."

Another hint: "James Baldwin is at this time, possibly, becoming regarded as a bit of a bore. You should be ready to talk about him, and should vaguely affirm his extreme position—but don't bring up his name yourself."

Three Autos Involved In Mishap

Arnie Ogren, 28, of 616 Stephenson Ave., Escanaba, was ticketed by State Police for violation of the basic speed law after an accident involving three cars at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

State Police said Ogren's car struck the rear of a car driven by Philip LaMarch, 47, of 801 N. 19th St., Escanaba, and then bounced into the rear of another car driven by William Arpa, 30, Bensenville, Ill., on U. S. 2 and 41 about a half mile north of the Escanaba city limits. Ogren and LaMarch suffered minor injuries, but sought their own treatment, officers said.

Troopers said the accident happened when LaMarch slowed his car for a road grader and Ogren didn't.

Menominee, next foe for the Escanaba Eskimos, blew a pair of golden scoring opportunities while settling for the 7-7 tie with Stambaugh in the season opener last weekend. Operating under new coach Ken Hofer and employing a single wing offense, the Maroons were inside the Stambaugh 10 yard line twice and couldn't reach paydirt. They also had a touchdown wiped out by an illegal motion penalty, missed a field goal and had no fewer than eight penalties for motion or offside. Tom Mayou scored Menominee's lone touchdown on a 44 yard run in the fourth quarter.

Ironwood rallied from a 7-6 halftime hole to edge Wakefield 19-16 in a Michigan-Wisconsin Conference battle. The defending champion Red Devils won on a pair of short touchdown jumps by fullback Steve Slining in the second half. Roger Norkell, a transfer from Newberry, pitched a touchdown pass to Stanley Gemholls for Wakefield with six minutes remaining in the game.

St. Ignace, like Ironwood unbeaten in eight games last season, extended its victory string by whipping Pickford 28-0 in an opener in the Eastern end of the Peninsula. Halfbacks George Fankovich and Tom Mackin scored two touchdowns apiece for new coach Jerry Gallagher, former Iron River athlete who succeeded Ron Rubick at the St. Ignace post.

George Oikarinen of Calumet picked up right where he left off last season by gaining 267 yards in 25 carries and scoring all of Calumet's points in a 25-13 victory over Bessemer. Oikarinen tallied on runs of 1, 2, 5 and 32 yards for Coach Wayne Sickler's Copper Kings.

Kingsford, Holy Name's Friday night foe in Great Northern Conference action, was jolted by Marquette in the season opener for both teams, 6-0. The Redmen shook Kingsford fullback Chris Alberti loose from the ball on the Flivver 10 yard line with Paul Beauchaine recovering. Keith Contois then swept end for the first quarter touchdown. Alberti also fumbled on the Marquette 12 yard line with a minute to go in the game.

The Norway Knights got off to a successful season start with a 39-0 romp over Marquette Baraga, spoiling Coach Bill Jennings' return to the coaching ranks at the Marquette school. Dave Solis chalked up three long distance touchdowns for Norway on runs of 33, 77 and 78 yards.

Crystal Falls, defending Upper Peninsula grid champion, took it on the chin in the 1966 opener, bowing to the Houghton Gremlins by a 14-2 margin. Jerry LaJeunesse had a hand in both touchdowns, scoring from the two yard line and taking a 68 yard toss from Bill Gauthier. Houghton's lone loss in a 7-1 record last fall came at the hands of Crystal Falls in the season opener.

Rookies Galore But Angels Win With Veterans

By The Associated Press
Kansas City wanted to give some schooling to a bunch of youngsters, but the lessons were given by a couple of California oldtimers.

The Athletics used a record number of players Tuesday, many of them just having completed their minor-league seasons. But timely hits by veterans Joe Adcock and Jimmy Piersall won the game for California, 4-3.

Adcock tripled in two runs and Piersall doubled across two more, all in the first inning, and that was all the Angels needed.

Starter Fred Newman gave up three Kansas City runs in the second, but Clyde Wright and Bob Lee shut out the A's the rest of the way.

In all, the Athletics used 24 players, tying an American League record for a nine-inning game. The major-league mark is 25.

In other American League games, Baltimore beat New York 4-1, Detroit crushed Washington 8-2, Cleveland bopped Boston 6-2 and Minnesota edged Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings.

Paul Lindblad, just a rookie himself, was the victim of the Adcock-Piersall outburst. In the two-thirds of an inning he worked, he gave up three hits, four runs and three bases on balls. Five other Kansas City pitchers saw action before the night was through.

Dave Johnson, normally thought of as a glove man in the midst of the potent Baltimore attack, continued his hitting ways with three hits and two runs batted in.

Monday's doubleheader, Johnson had five hits. Dave McNally stopped the Yanks on just six hits. Boog Powell took over the RBI leadership from teammate Frank Robinson at 103.

Denny McLain continued his return to form after his post-All Star game slump and picked up his 18th victory. Don Wert and Bill Frechan each drove in three runs, both hitting two-run homers.

Softball Banquet Thursday Night

Merchants, Mead Snare City Tournament Crowns

Tuesday Results
Michigan Hotel 3, All Stars 1
Mead 9, Michigan Hotel 4
Merchants 3, Flat Rock 3

The Merchants and Mead captured Escanaba City Softball tournament crowns in the finals played at Memorial Field Tuesday night.

The teams will be honored at the annual Escanaba Softball Association banquet which will be held Thursday, Sept. 8, at the P&H Rod and Gun Club located near the Danforth Ski Hill. Refreshments will be served at 6 and dinner at 7.

The Merchants added the City Tournament title to their regular season league championship by edging Flat Rock, 3-2, in the American Division finals.

Mead came up out of the league basement to win the National Division tourney, whipping Michigan Hotel in last night's finals, 9-4. Michigan Hotel had earlier nipped the young All Star team 3-1, to gain the right to face Mead in the championship contest.

Flat Rock blew the title game with a shaky performance in the field as Billy Smith wasted a two-hit pitching effort. Errors led all three Merchant tallies.

The league champs put a run on the scoreboard in the first frame when Frank Katrinski was safe on an error at short and came in on another error off a ground ball hit by Bob Corriveau.

Jim McGovern romped home in the second inning on a long blast to left field by Tony Derkos. McGovern was alive by virtue of another error at short.

The Merchants scored the deciding run in the third when Katrinski walked, moved to second on a wild pitch, to third on a fielder's choice and home on another wild pitch.

Smith scored both of Flat Rock's runs. He lined a homer over the left center field fence leading off the second inning and singled and scored on a hit by Bill Plouff in the fourth.

Bill McGovern went the distance on the Merchants mound and limited Flat Rock to four hits while fanning nine batters. Smith whiffed four.

Mead built a narrow 5-4 lead over Michigan Hotel in five innings in the National finals, then exploded for four runs to clinch the decision in the last of the sixth.

Manager Levi Young came on in relief in the top of the sixth to squelch a Michigan uprising. Michigan had loaded the bases against Mark Miller with nobody out when Young took over. He retired the side without allowing a run.

Big sticklers for Mead included Ricky Lancoeur with three hits in three trips, Dick Sivertson, Mark Miller and Bob Trombly with doubles and Bob Weellan with a single.

Harold Porath went all the way on the Michigan Hotel mound.

Barney Barnhart and Jerry Sundquist battered Highland par last evening as they scored one under 35's in the Twilight League race. Other low scores were Jack and Vial Smith's 38, and 39's by Mel Manksie and Jim Douglas.

The Bauners continued to race away from the pack and now enjoy a 13 point bulge. The battle continues in the other positions however as the Divot Diggers hold a 3½ point edge over the Turg Kings and the Has Beens.

There are three more meetings for the league.

Team standings: Bauners 98½, Divot Diggers 85½, Turg Kings and Has Beens 80, Long Knockers 77, Super Valu 76½, W. Elliott Tries New Quarterback
ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan football coach Bum Elliott used the defensive halfback as a quarterback Tuesday in an effort to find depth for the key job in the Wolverines.

Rick Volk, senior from Waukegan, Ohio, filled in as quarterback for about seven minutes during the team's light scrimmage.

The No. 1 signal caller, senior Dick Vidmer of Greensburg, Pa., currently has only one backup man—John Thomas, a junior nonletterman from Walled Lake.

Coaches gave no indication whether Volk would replace Thomas.

The Wolverines Tuesday began work on offensive patterns to be used in their first game of the season, against Oregon Sept. 17.

Jets Admit Failure On Huarte Deal

By The Associated Press
John Huarte and his $200,000 are gone, but the New York Jets of the American Football League are still trying to get their money's worth. Now they will have to wait until next year for another try—and it may cost them even more.

The Jets admitted temporary failure Tuesday when they traded receiver Jim Colclough back to the Boston Patriots for a high draft choice.

The spending started in 1964 when the Jets paid $400,000 for Joe Namath and $200,000 for Huarte in their search for a quarterback. Namath beat out the former Notre Dame star and Huarte was sent to Boston for Colclough and promising lineman Jim Waskiewicz.

Colclough, 29, who spent six years with Boston and led the Pats with 40 catches in 1965, did not make it with the Jets and Waskiewicz is out with an injury.

So for their $200,000 the Jets have only an injured Waskiewicz and a high draft choice that will cost them more to sign.

In the National Football League, whose 40-man player limit goes into effect at 2 p.m. EDT today, the New York Giants traded a draft choice for fullback Allen Jacobs of the Green Bay Packers. Jacobs, a two-year man from Utah, will battle for the vacancy left when Tucker Frederickson was lost for the season with an injured knee.

The Giants also gave seven-year veteran Maury Youmans, a defensive end, his release. Youmans, obtained from Atlanta, was on the voluntary retired list after a knee operation and asked to become a free agent.

The Pittsburgh Steelers sent packing veteran quarterback Tommy Wack, former Texas star, and rookie end Tony Jeter, obtained from Green Bay after a college career at Nebraska.

Two promising youngsters were placed on injury waivers by Minnesota and Los Angeles. The Vikings made the move with offensive tackle Archie Sutton, a second round draft choice from Illinois two years ago who was counted on as a regular before an inflammation of the veins in his legs sidelined him.

The Rams waived on linebacker Tony Gullory, who has a bad knee.

Two Detroit castoffs got another chance when guard Ted Kuras, 32, signed with the Rams and offensive lineman John Gonzaga, 33, hooked on with Denver of the AFL.

over the left center field fence leading off the second inning and singled and scored on a hit by Bill Plouff in the fourth.

Spartans Slate Closed Workout

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State gridgers cut back from two-day drills to one-a-day practice sessions Tuesday, and began concentrating on plays for North Carolina State, their opening day opponent in 11 days.

The Spartans, defending Big Ten champions, planned a closed scrimmage Wednesday.

In the team's sixth day of practice this season, Coach Duffy Daugherty used both Jimmy Raye and reserve Charlie Wedemeyer at quarterback.

Larry Smith, a junior from Chicago, filled in for center Ron Ranieri, a Royal Oak junior, who sprained his knee in a scrimmage last Saturday.

The Spartans meet North Carolina State Sept. 17 and Penn State Sept. 24, both at East Lansing, before starting conference play against Illinois at Champaign Oct. 1.

Schmeling Gives German Fighter Outside Chance

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—Max Schmeling, recalling his 1936 surprise knockout victory over Joe Louis, cautions against writing off Karl Mildenberger in Saturday night's heavyweight title bout against Cassius Clay in Frankfurt.

"Naturally, Clay is the favorite, but Mildenberger definitely has a chance," said Schmeling, the only German ever to wear the heavyweight crown.

Schmeling, who will be 61 Sept. 28, said his first encounter with Louis was the best example of how an underdog can upset "the greatest."

"In 1936, when I already was well past my prime, I was brought to the United States more or less as cannon fodder for the then super boxer—Joe Louis. At that time they also did not give me the breath of a chance."

Schmeling, who had held the title from 1930 to 1932, knocked out Louis in the 12th round of that non-title fight. Two years later, after Louis had won the crown from James J. Braddock, Schmeling was dropped by the Brown Bomber in the first round.

Louis and Schmeling held a reunion Tuesday in Hamburg. Both plan to watch the Clay-Mildenberger bout.

Mildenberger, 28, the European heavyweight champion, is the first German challenger since Schmeling.

Schmeling said he had never seen Clay fight in person, but had seen telecasts of some of his matches.

Clay, Schmeling said, is very fast and packs a good punch.

"But," he added, "his speed can also be his weak point, since he can't hit as hard when he's moving as when he's poised. The odds for this match are 10 to 1 for Clay. That's nonsense, of course, because, if a sport were all that cut and dried, the two wouldn't need to box."

Schmeling, whose professional career spanned 24 years, now operates three soft drink plants in North Germany and lives at Hollensted near Hamburg with his wife, the former actress Anna Ondra.

Giants Advance To Deadlock In Runnerup Place

Herman Franks drew an ace from the bottom of the deck but Harry Walker's best cards all were trumped.

Ray Sadecki and Joe Torre divided the pot.

The stakes were high Tuesday night when Sadecki backed up Franks with a three-hit shutout, leading San Francisco to a 6-0 victory over Los Angeles, and Torre crisscrossed Walker with a three-run homer, powering Atlanta past Pittsburgh 4-1.

The Giants' victory boosted them into a virtual tie for second place with the Dodgers, 12 games behind the National League-leading Pirates.

The Braves reached the 500 mark for the first time since May 9 and tied Cincinnati for sixth place, 12 games off the pace.

Franks, the Giants' manager, cashed his bet on Sadecki when the 25-year-old left-hander scattered three singles and recorded his first victory in two months.

Sadecki had been a major disappointment to the Giants since they acquired him in an early-season trade that sent Orlando Cepeda to St. Louis. He went into Tuesday night's game with a 5.00 earned run average and only three complete games in 18 starts.

"Control has been his main trouble," catcher Tom Haller said. "But this time he had good control of his fast ball and his curve. He made only a couple of mistakes."

Asked when he had last pitched a shutout, Sadecki replied: "That's a good question. You'll have to look it up in an old record book."

Walker, the Pirates' pilot, gambled against Torre in the eighth inning of a 1-1 deadlock. Felipe Alou drew a lead-off walk against southpaw Bob Veale and Denis Menke sacrificed. Walker then ordered an intentional walk to Hank Aaron, bringing Torre to the plate.

"I know Torre's a tough out," Walker said afterward, "but I was hoping for the double play."

Instead, Torre cleared the left field wall for his 33rd homer.

In other NL games, New York edged Cincinnati 3-2, Houston nipped St. Louis 4-3 and Chicago upended Philadelphia 7-2.

Sadecki pitched perfect ball against the Dodgers for four innings, did not issue a walk and was never in trouble while improving his season record to 5-7.

The Giants took loser Don Drysdale and two successors for 15 hits, including a two-run homer by Willie Mays and a three-run double by Tito Franzen.

After Torre's three-run shot sent Atlanta ahead, Walker lost another strategy match in the Pirates' eighth.

Jim Pagliaroni led off with a single and Walker sent up left-hand hitting Jerry Lynch for "Braves" skipper Billy Hitchcock countered by replacing starter Pat Jarvis with southpaw Dick Kolay. Walker came back with Andre Rodgers, a right-hand winner, for Lench. Rodgers struck out.

Don Glendon, another right-hand hitter, then swung for Matty Alou and Hitchcock called in right-hander Jay Ritchie. Ritchie fanned Glendon, then retired Gene Alley on a grounder to end the inning and protect Jarvis' third victory in four decisions.

Mets Rehire Westrum As Manager

NEW YORK (AP)—Westrum has been rehired as manager of the New York Mets and the guess is that his salary is in the $40,000 neighborhood. What Westrum needs now is some players good enough to draw similar salaries.

Of the current Mets—the best in the five-year history of the club—it's likely that only three players make as much or more than the manager: third baseman Ken Boyer and pitchers Bob Shaw and Bob Friend.

But that could change.

"I would have to say that pitching would be our biggest need—and a long-ball hitting outfielder," Westrum said Tuesday at the press conference.

"Strength in the bullpen might help us win 10 or 12 more games next year."

bring the Mets what they want. But there is tradeable material on the club—promising young pitchers such as Tug McGraw and Dick Selma and second baseman Ron Hunt, whose name consistently crops up in discussions.

The Mets supposedly were close to trading Hunt for outfielder Jimmie Hall of Minnesota Twins last year, and probably would be willing to part with the aggressive second baseman if a major trade could be pulled off.

As for what's available, the Mets are known to covet outfielder Tommy Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers, might be willing to take a shot at Dodger right-hander Don Drysdale if he becomes available and might even look at one of the guy's from the other ball park in town—Roger Maris of the Yankees.

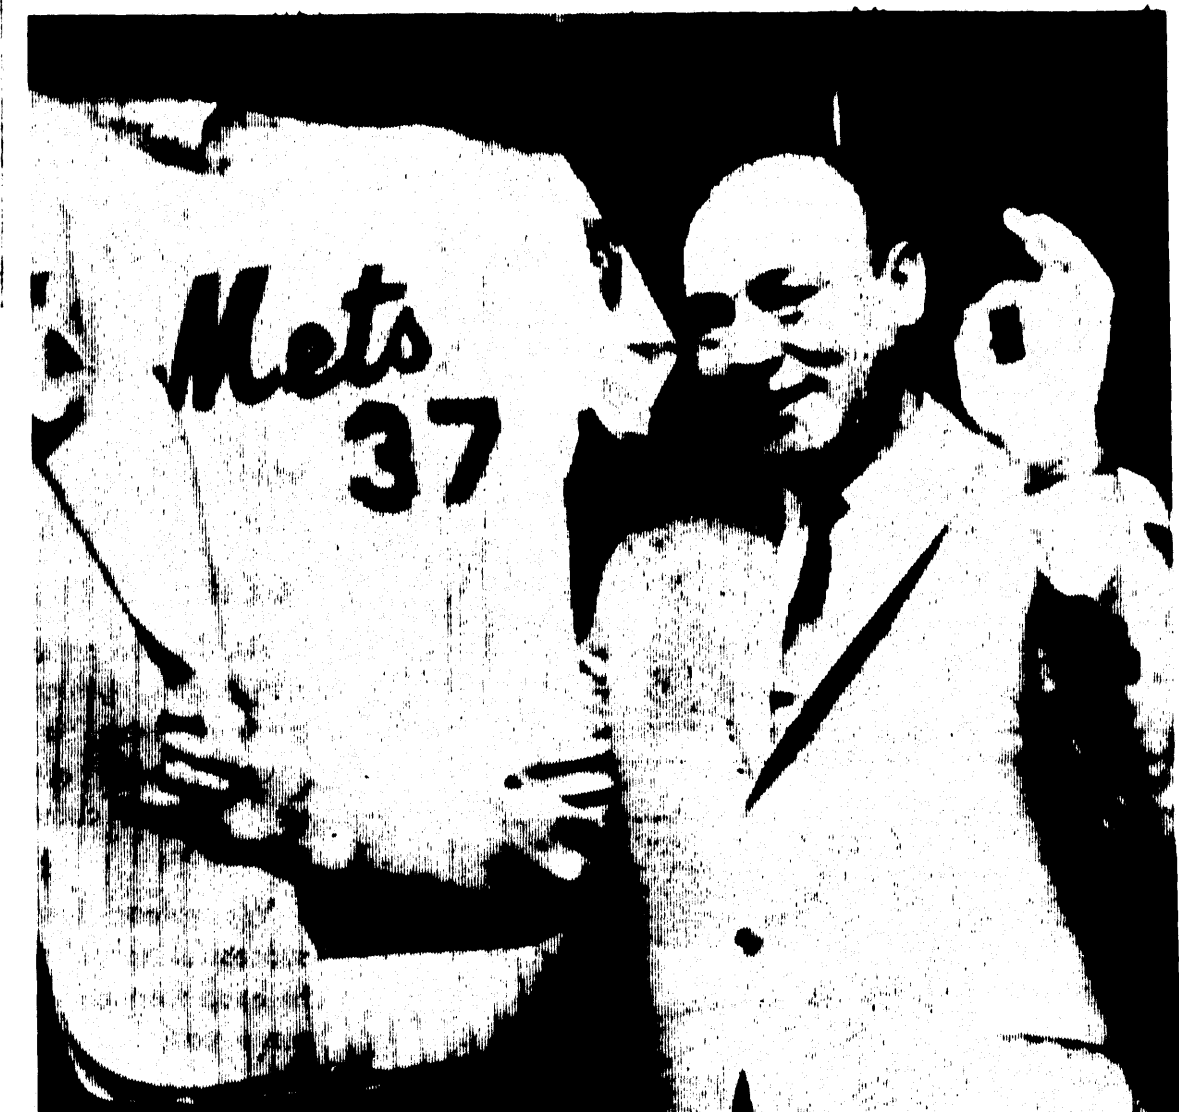

Westrum, meanwhile, has to be happy with what he has. And what he has is the Met record for being the manager re-signed at the earliest date and the most victories in Met history, 60 following Tuesday night's 3-2 victory over Cincinnati.

He also was the manager of record as the Mets became the best drawing National League club in New York history, bringing their 1966 attendance total to 1,815,049 in the game with the Reds and surpassing the record set by the 1947 Brooklyn Dodgers.

But that doesn't satisfy Casey Stengel, Westrum's predecessor. What Casey wants is eighth place, 2½ games away and held by Houston—the league's other expansion club.

"I talked to Casey on the phone and he congratulated me," Westrum said. "He also told me 'stay close to Houston, beat 'em and you've really done a job.'"

FIELD MANAGER Wes Westrum stands in front of Casey Stengel's framed No. 3 shirt at Shea Stadium in New York and displays his 1967 contract. Westrum, who took over as Mets manager last year when a broken hip forced Casey to retire, led the Mets to their best year since they were formed four seasons ago. (AP Wirephoto)

Board Offer Is Refused; Seek Insurance Item

Manistique school teachers met Tuesday morning and rejected a proposal of the Manistique board of education in negotiations.

All items have been agreed upon except request for $10 per month per teacher toward insurance. The vote was 55 against the board offer, six in favor and five abstaining.

The Board of Education met separately, but simultaneously heard reports from its salary negotiating committee. The insurance request will cost $8500 per year, for teachers, and $12,720 per year if auxiliary employees are included.

A master contract has been agreed upon between teachers and the board. In early discussion stages this summer, some matters could not be finalized as the July 25 vote to reorganize the school district was scheduled.

A ceiling has been placed on the amount of increase teachers can receive in a year, and is set at $800. A fused salary schedule for the new district, which now includes six of the 8 townships of the county has been drawn, based on certification.

Starting salary for special certificate teachers is set at $4500 and special degree at $4900. Maximum salary is $7,800. The schedule has nine steps.

The Teachers club representative and Supt. E. E. Wuehle have agreed on a letter sent to certified personnel providing for start of the school today, with provision for modification of salary, retroactive to the beginning of the school year, after agreement has been reached.

All working conditions and nearly all economic considerations have been agreed upon by representatives of the Teachers Club and the representatives of the Board of Education. Salaries will be paid according to previously signed contracts or last year's contracts until negotiations have been completed.

The fused salary schedule will enable the board to stay within its budget, Denton Nelson, board president said. He and John Moffat and Supt. Wuehle have served on the salary committee for the board.

Howard Schwartz, representative of the Teacher's club said teachers would be at school today and that no strike was contemplated.

Mink Breeders Warned Against Great Lakes Fish

Members of the Upper Michigan Mink Breeders Association Tuesday were cautioned against using Great Lakes fish as feed by R. J. Stephenson of Wisconsin, co-chairman of the Mink Farmer's Research Foundation and chairman of the permanent committee on research for the mink industry.

The Association met in regular session at the V. F. W. Hall in Escanaba.

Stephenson said studies are currently underway to determine the degree of harm to animal life of pesticide residues in Great Lakes fish. He said a study at Cornell University, however, still has two more years to run before any conclusions can be reached.

Until studies are completed, Stephenson suggested that mink ranchers be extremely cautious about feeding Great Lakes fish during the critical first six months of a mink's life. He suggested using ocean fish instead.

Most mink ranchers in the Association have already shifted away from feeding Great Lakes fish to some extent, substituting other foods. Some fish, however, is still used, particularly smelt.

Stephenson pointed out that degree of pesticide residue contamination in fish varies with the type of fish and also with the area of the lake from which it was taken.

The Association will hold its next meeting Oct. 4 in Menominee for the annual banquet.

Annie Jump Cannon, known as the "census taker of the sky," is also called the world's greatest woman astronomer.

Bircher Licked In N. Dakota

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada has won Democratic renomination for a third term after a primary election campaign that focused on gambling operations.

In another primary election Tuesday, an Iowa State University history professor breezed to the Democratic nomination for senator and a fellow faculty member held a slim lead in the race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

In North Dakota, a member of the John Birch Society was defeated by the Republican organization's choice in a battle for a GOP congressional nomination.

Sawyer rolled up 55 per cent of the vote in sweeping past five opponents. He will be bidding for an unprecedented third term in the Nov. 8 general election when he faces Lt. Gov. Paul Laxalt, the only Republican holding major state office in Nevada. Laxalt swamped his one primary opponent Tuesday.

In the campaign, Sawyer contended the Justice Department had conducted "silent warfare" against Nevada gambling while Robert F. Kennedy was attorney general. His opponents charged Sawyer had allowed a breakdown in gambling control.

Michigan Defense Contracts In '66 Total $918 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan got defense prime contracts totaling $918.4 million in fiscal 1966, the Defense Department said today.

The Pentagon said the breakdown provides no direct indication of where the actual production work was done. For the most part, it said, state figures indicate where a product was finally processed and assembled or where construction or service was performed.

Ferency Frustrated At Labor Day Rally

DETROIT (AP) — Zoltan Ferency, Democratic candidate for governor, says that what happened to him Labor Day shouldn't happen to Republican.

Monday, Gov. George Romney and Republican Sen. Robert P. Griffin marched in the parade in downtown Detroit against the wishes of labor leaders and Democratic officials.

Ferency said that his troubles really started at Detroit Metropolitan Airport where "the Republican candidate" got into President Johnson's limousine and rode with the president to Cobo Hall where Johnson gave the main address at a Labor Day rally.

"Then Al Barbour, chairman of the Wayne County AFL-CIO, presented me as chairman of the State Democratic Party and failed to add that I am the Democratic candidate for governor," Ferency said.

When Johnson came to the platform, he also introduced Ferency only as the state Democratic chairman—and mispronounced his name.

Ferency said that on the plane to Battle Creek he lunched with the President and they discussed federal-state programs involving Michigan.

"Everything was going fine," Ferency said. "Then we landed. I was in the car with the President, but no one seemed to know me. On the platform, the master of ceremonies failed to introduce me and this time the President didn't mention me at all. He didn't even mispronounce my name."
